

KERI MCKAY
kerimckayinteriors.com

At Keri McKay Interiors, we welcome spring with open arms. It's a time to refresh our interiors, and of course, unveil and renew our outdoor living spaces. When furnishing an outdoor area, I suggest choosing pieces with clean, simple lines and soothing muted colors that complement their natural surroundings; allow nature to take the spotlight. I use area rugs, lighting and accessories for a layered look and always select materials that will weather gracefully.

Nova Planter by Palecek
palecek.com

I love the simplicity of this white limestone planter on a dark bronze stand. The perfect pedestal for your favorite summer annuals.

Parrot Dining Table by Mr. Brown London
mrbrownhome.com

I love the simple silhouette of this concrete dining table. Pair it with upholstered chairs for comfortable yet sophisticated al fresco dining.

Holly Hunt Great Outdoors Fabric Collection: Ocean Floor/Luminous, Beach Blanket/Sea Urchin and Ecriture/Verde
hollyhunt.com

Today's solution-dyed synthetics are softer and more luxurious than earlier polyester versions. These all-weather, colorfast fabrics will add a soothing but fun pop of color to any outdoor space. Better yet, bring these fabrics indoors for kid and pet-friendly upholstery or stain-resistant dining chairs.

Fresno Framed Sconce by Visual Comfort
visualcomfort.com

Outdoor lighting is essential for ambiance and evening entertaining. Update and streamline your outdoor lighting with this timeless aged iron wall lantern.

Reef Outdoor Apartment Sofa by Lee Industries
leeindustries.com

This streamlined sofa with stainless-steel base will be the highlight of your outdoor lounge. It can be customized with a wide array of high-performance outdoor fabrics.